

Celebrating 28 years of

RAISING CONSCIOUSNESS & A LITTLE HELL.

Do you know a passionate advocate for people with disabilities? Celebrate that person with a nomination to the 28th Annual James T. Neubacher Award.

JAMES T. NEUBACHER
U-M alumnus and equal rights advocate

PLEASE
POST

Call for Nominations:

28th Annual

JAMES T. NEUBACHER AWARD

“Raise a little consciousness; raise a little hell.”

– James T. Neubacher, U-M alumnus and equal rights advocate

Words have the power to bring about change. James T. Neubacher’s words as a Detroit Free Press syndicated columnist helped change public policy and, more importantly, public perception. He showed us that removing barriers to participation in the community for people with disabilities strengthens society for us all.

Questions? Need a printed form?

Contact Anna Ercoli Schnitzer at 734.936.1402
or at schnitzr@umich.edu

Use your own words to celebrate U-M faculty, staff, students or alumni who carry on the legacy of James T. Neubacher. Make a nomination at ability.umich.edu/neubacher

NOMINATION
DEADLINE
June 9, 2017