

Want to help build a positive workplace culture at U-M including Michigan Medicine?

Then Voices of the Staff wants you!

Voices has given me opportunities to be creative, take chances and speak up in order to fully contribute to the University of Michigan's mission.

Susan Zill, Mott OR RN and Voices team member

Voices of the Staff (Voices) is a volunteer-based program that gives staff members a forum for sharing ideas and defining the campus community issues that matter most. It is comprised of six Network Teams, which are often called on to serve as "sounding boards" for university leadership.

Voices is your opportunity to:

- Establish connections with colleagues from all areas of the university
- Provide creative suggestions to improve the employee experience
- Highlight your value and talents

Apply now & be a part of the next big solutions!

1. Get your supervisor's approval

2. Choose which team you'd like to contribute to:

- ➔ Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion
- ➔ Enhancing the Employee Experience
- ➔ Embracing Change and Leading at all Levels
- ➔ Fostering Learning, Coaching, and Mentoring
- ➔ Leveraging Technology
- ➔ Striving for Well-being

3. Apply by March 31, 2020 at voices.umich.edu.

INPUT. DIALOGUE. RESULTS.

M
VOICES OF
THE STAFF